

Welcome to Prairie Lane Studios!

Music is a way of learning by creating. I enjoy watching students gain knowledge, progress and also have fun in their musical journey as well as develop a sense of responsibility, motivation and positive self-esteem. To be successful in music requires commitment and communication between teacher, parent and student. My philosophy is that anyone can learn and create! Currently, private music instruction is available for piano and upper brass instruments (trumpet and French horn). Please take the time to read the current studio policy.

New Students:

-Registration is complete and your studio day/time is reserved upon receipt of forms and first tuition payment.

Tuition

Your tuition includes:

- ❖ Teacher experience and training
- ❖ Continuing education
- ❖ Studio scheduling, planning, communications and administration duties
- ❖ Instrument maintenance (piano)
- ❖ Planning and expenses for performances/recitals, etc.
- ❖ Office supplies, computer equipment/software
- ❖ Taxes, insurance, utilities

Tuition does not include weekly materials (lesson books, assignment notebook), ensemble fees or instrument rental

Tuition is due on the first day of each month. On time payments are appreciated. A $5.00 late fee will be added to payments received after the 10th of each month. Payment can be made by cash, Zelle or check made payable to Tracy Smith. Students will not be able to participate in lessons or studio events if tuition has not been paid.

Tuition covers four weekly half-hour lessons per month. When there are five lesson days in a month, students will receive the fifth lesson at no extra charge.

Teacher reserves the right to discontinue lessons with a student due to poor attendance for lessons/performances, not being prepared for lessons/ensembles, late payments, poor attitude or disrespect towards instructor or others at Prairie Lane Studios.

Lessons canceled by the instructor will be re-scheduled if possible.

Inclement Weather

Depending on the severity of inclement weather (flood, snow, etc.) and the travel safety of all involved, instructor may make the decision to close the studio and cancel lessons, not rescheduling for that week. Accounts would then be adjusted.

If instructor feels the weather is suitable for lessons, the studio will remain open, giving students an option of attending. If studio is open and students opt NOT to come, lesson is forfeited and accounts are not adjusted.

Music study is most beneficial when everyone does their part:

PARENT RESPONSIBILITIES

- ❖ Support your student in reaching their goals, whether it big or small
- ❖ Observe your child's practice time to see what they are accomplishing
- ❖ Make sure there is a consistent time for the student to practice – before school or before homework are often most effective
- ❖ Teaching responsibility and preparedness is important for musical achievement
- ❖ Pay tuition in a timely manner
- ❖ Communicate any concerns or questions to the teacher

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

- ❖ Practice at least 5 times a week. For best results, include practicing the day of your lesson and the day after your lesson.
- ❖ Come to lessons and all other activities with a positive attitude, energy and willingness to learn and try new things. Ask questions if you don't understand something and take responsibility for your learning.
- ❖ Show respect for teachers, materials, equipment and other students

- ❖ Take time to share your music with others – practice with family and friends, offer to play at church or other events, record your playing and send videos to friends and relatives who live far away
- ❖ Have fun making music!!!

TEACHER RESPONSIBILITIES

- ❖ Provide students with a well-rounded music education including technique, theory and musical selections. Encourage students to do their best and reach attainable goals for themselves.
- ❖ Provide students with opportunities to share their music in recitals and other studio or public events
- ❖ Provide feedback to parents regarding student progress
- ❖ Participate in education activities such as workshops or conferences to improve skills and knowledge as a music educator

Discontinuing Lessons

If there is a need for a student to stop taking lessons at some point, the studio will require one week notice in writing prior to discontinuing lessons. However as stated above, staff reserves the right to discontinue lessons/ensembles with a student for poor attendance for lessons/performance, not being prepared for lessons/ensembles, late payments, poor attitude or disrespect towards instructor or others at Prairie Lane Studios.

Studio Etiquette

PARKING: You may use the driveway to park or drop off and pick up students. Students should enter through the front door-just ring the bell!

EMAIL/TEXTING is the best way to reach me. I prefer not to answer the phone during lessons so if you must reach me during lesson hours, just send a quick email or text to my cell – 815.922.5460.

A FEW OTHER ITEMS:

- ❖ Arrive on time with music, assignment book and any other materials you may need
- ❖ Lessons will begin and end on time, and students who are late will have what remains of their designated lesson time
- ❖ No food, candy, gum or beverages (other than water) are allowed during a lesson
- ❖ Put away all electronic devices and cell phones during lessons
- ❖ Students are expected to respect instruments, equipment and music belonging to the studio and will be responsible for replacing damaged items.
